I'd like to delete/hide the horizontal line at the bottom of each post/article, how can I do this in custom CSS?

Hey @toppdeckel

This will do the trick for single posts:

```
single .site-main > article > .entry-footer {
    border-top: 0px;
}
```

hi @markoof, thank you for your help!
unfortunately it does not work somehow 😞

this is the site for example – i want to delete/hide the shorter horizontal line below the picture.

@domainsupport for me this only changes the line under the title of the article, but thank you!

And now I found it:
With

```
.single .site-main > article > .entry-footer {

    border-top: 0px solid var(--separator--border-color);

}

it worked. Your tip was a good start for me @markoof 😊

Just following up with this. We have just added two options to Options for Twenty Twenty-One plugin ...

“Customizer – Content Options – Post Footer Border Bottom”

“Customizer – Content Options – Post Footer Border Top”

... to remove or adjust the width of the post footer border on archive and single post pages.
